ABOUT THE DOMAINE

Martin Grassl, Austrian born, while working for an Austrian drinks company was sent off to Mexico, age 24, to learn all about marketing tequila. He spent a year in Jalisco learning all aspects of producing tequila, studying agave cultivation, glass production and examining sales and marketing. It is from this insight into the tequila world that Martin Grassl spotted a gap in the market for quality distilled blue agave tequila. Grassl's aim was to establish a product that would blast the image of tequila out of the firewater category and into a super-premium spirit sector, launching Porfidio in 1991. Martin has achieved cult status for the Porfidio range, comprising specialist brands produced in limited quantities.

VINIFICATION
